SPENDS THE NIGHT WAVING A LANTERN TO GET TO PHOENIX

The busiest flagman the Arizona Eastern ever had worked all night of Sunday without pay and without any other authority than a lantern, but not without results. He flagged everything, catching trains coming and going. He was C. W. Crouse, who had never had previous experience in flagging.

Mr. Crouse was coming to Phoenix with a cash register which needed fixing. On account of the stage of the river he drove from Sacaton to the station of Sacate, the other side of the Gila bridge, to catch a train for Phoenix. Sacate is a flag station, and nothing more, and if the trainmen could have their way, it would not be that much.

Mr. Crouse arrived at Sacate after night. The storekeeper there did not want to sit up all night, so he armed Mr. Crouse with a lantern and told him to go to it. He also warned him that he would probably find some of the trainmen grouchy. Mr. Crouse was surprised by the volume of the traffic on the Arizona Eastern. He did not know that it was running half as many trains.

The first train he caught was south-bound, and then he became involved in a dispute with a brakeman over a matter of ethics concerning the side-train to be boarded by Mr. Crouse and his baggage. The brakeman was as finicky about sides as a cow to be milked or a cow-poy to be mounted. The dispute ended with the train going south. It was then that Mr. Crouse sought the aid of the train dispatcher, and the authority he had received from the store keeper to flag trains was fortified.

Then he began to flag trains going toward Phoenix. The first was a freight, which naturally paid no attention to the waving lantern. But along about midnight the flagman caught and stopped a passenger. He slept late yesterday morning. Inquiry at the office of the Arizona Eastern yesterday brought no word of an intention to abandon Sacate as a flag station.

ONLY GARAGE OPEN HAD A BUSY SUNDAY

Simpson's garage on 229 East Adams had a busy Sunday, the first in Arizona Sunday since it was the only garage in town to open its doors for service under the new ruling of the Arizona Automobile Association which now allows only one service station or garage to be open each Sunday.

Mr. Simpson reports that he sold from 500 to 600 gallons of gasoline, besides a good deal of oil and many different accessories, and fixed everything in the way of a machine, from a baby carriage to an electric piano. (The latter article required the expert attention of Mr. Simpson's best ignition expert). Calls for help were answered all over town, and even as far as a mile from Mesa.

Although the entire garage was chock-full of cars, even overflowing to the front and back yard, no accidents happened all day, with the exception of a small collision when a motorcycle and an automobile, each anxious for attention, tried to beat each other into the garage. However, nobody was hurt and the slightly worried motorcycle was quickly fixed up, so nothing was really damaged.

In regard to the Sunday raise in the price of gasoline, Mr. Simpson said that nobody objected to this, and that they all seemed to realize that the extra charge of 5 cents went towards a worthy cause, namely, the local branch of the Red Cross.

RALPH LYALL GOES TO JOIN THE NAVY

Another star goes in the service flag of the Phoenix High School. Ralph Lyall, for three years with the clerical staff of the Water Users' Association, left Phoenix last night for San Diego, having joined the United States navy.

Ralph is just 20 years old and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lyall, 59 West Holly street. He was graduated from the Phoenix High School with the class of 1915. He was a member of the football team.

SHE'LL SEE THAT ALL GET COMFORT KITS

GLENDALE, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Ben Yeager will be in charge of distributing the comfort kits for the Red Cross to the boys leaving from here for the service during the absence of the chairman of that committee, Mrs. J. F. Lewis. It will be of great assistance if the boys leaving, or their relatives or friends, will drop a postal to Mrs. Yeager and give the name of the boy leaving and where to find him. In every case where it was possible Mrs. Lewis has made personal delivery of the kit. It is taken the interest of a mother in packing each kit. Her own son, Del Lewis, volunteered early in the game and is making good.

T. F. Jones, son of Mrs. C. A. Clark, left last night for Salt Lake City on business. He expects to be away for several weeks and will take a vacation after attending to business.

Frank Sheets was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yeager yesterday for the day.

The Misses Isidora, Otto and Louise Perkins have returned from Flagstaff. They have been attending school and enjoying a delightful summer.

Mayor C. H. Tinker expects to leave the 15th for the coast to join his family.

The Quessinberry and White party is heard from from Williams. They are having a fine time, leisurely traveling, and camping out. The party especially enjoy the campfires they build at night.

Dr. Martin was called to attend Mrs. Ben Stevens who was taken suddenly ill yesterday. She is so far recovered as to sit up today.

There will be a social dance at the Club house tonight given by the employees of the Pacific Creamery.

Street commissioner Brennan has the big grader out working the roads. The mud is drying up fast and the roads are getting in fine shape.

J. P. Findley, general foreman of the Hanson ranches with headquarters at No. 14, one mile north of Peoria, was in town yesterday on business. The cotton in that vicinity is looking fine and a large crop is expected from the present outlook.

J. T. Lewis and family, G. L. Bissenger and family, Ray Carlson and W. A. Lewis will leave today for a two weeks' trip in the northern part of the state.

Lola Parter and Ethel Rich sold 350 worth of thrift stamps Saturday.

Mrs. John McCoy, Sr., was in town yesterday with her daughter-in-law Mrs. John McCoy, Jr., who is packing up to move to Phoenix where they expect to live.

Boiling Points vs Gravity Test

Boiling points are the real test of gasoline value. The old gravity test tells nothing about the carbureting and combustive qualities of gasoline.

Boiling points are vaporizing points. In straight-distilled, all-refinery Red Crown gasoline they form a continuous, uniform chain.

Combustion starts with the lowest boiling points and flashes on through the medium to the highest. The complete chain is necessary for instantaneous, full-powered combustion. Eliminate one link and the power chain is broken.

Red Crown, the Gasoline of Quality, has the full and complete chain of boiling points necessary for steady, dependable power: Low boiling points for easy starting, medium boiling points for quick and smooth acceleration, and high boiling points for power and mileage.

Look for the Red Crown sign before you fill.
